Twenty-one Persons Buried by Snowslides.

NARROW ESCAPE FOR MINERS

Avalanche Just Misses Boarding House in Which Three Hundred Men Were Sleeping—First Slide Almost Wipes Out the Town of Mace, Ida., Where Sixteen Lives Are Lost. Two Killed at Dorsey, Ida.

Spokane, Wash., March 1.—Twenty-one are known to be dead as the result of the snowslides in the mining district of Northern Idaho.

To the sixteen known to have perished in the snowslides at Mace and Burke, Ida., are added three more who died in a similar disaster when the camp of the Carbonate Hill Mining company at Mullan, Ida., was destroyed. Two more were killed at Dorsey, Ida.

The fight against time and cold at Mace and at Burke has been waged bravely and persistently by the little army of men who hope to find under the heaps of ruins in the ravine some who have escaped death. The rescuers have dug frantically for many hours, every available able-bodied man being pressed into service.

Mace is situated on the creek bed and the mountains rise high on either side of the town. The main body of the avalanche, which started from the top of Custer mountain, passed beyond the town, striking the opposite mountainside. The canyon is filled to a depth of from forty to fifty feet.

Demolished Houses.

The damage to the town was done by a branch of the main slide, which carried a construction train from the track as it plunged into the ravine. As it rolled up the other side it demolished the houses in its path and stopped a short distance beyond the Pascoe home. The boarding house of the Standard mine, where about 300 miners were sleeping, was missed by 120 feet.

The first slide, which almost wiped out the town of Mace, occurred while all except the men on the night shift in the mines were sleeping.

That more lives were not lost at Burke is due to Seamon S. Rowe, foreman of the Hecla mine. Realizing the danger that threatened the sleeping citizens of the town, a mile further up the stream, he sent Bert Clement to Burke to arouse the inhabitants and urge them to seek safety.

Three of those who lost their lives at Burke were members of the rescue party that had been at work at Mace. They were David Sheppard, Dick Richold and James Rogers.

These men were among the first to respond to the call for succor when the news of the disaster reached Burke. They started to Burke to aid in removing the women and children from danger. They arrived in time to be caught in the slide there.

Among the last to be taken out of the snow alive at Mace was Mrs. George Hooper, an old woman who lived on the outskirts of the town. She was buried thirteen feet under the snow and it took four hours to extricate her. She had suffered from the cold, but was not badly injured.

Completely Fills the Canyon.

Burke is buried fifty feet under a mass of snow and earth. The slide is 3,000 feet long and completely fills the canyon.

Lists of dead and injured in the various disasters follow:

Dead at Mace—R. H. Pascoe, superintendent of the Standard mine; Eddie Pascoe and Inez Pascoe, son and daughter of R. H. Pascoe; Mrs. E. D. Kittrell, wife of bookkeeper of the United States Stores company; two Kittrell children; Mrs. John Fennell; Al Laird; Mrs. Laird, mother of Al Laird; Richard Moyle; J. Thompson, T. B. Moore.

Injured at Mace—Mrs. R. H. Pascoe, Miss Katie Pascoe, Mrs. E. W. Hooper, Mrs. Guest, William George, George Gibson, Mrs. George Gibson, Mrs. Abe Winchester.

Dead at Mullan—Gus Berglund.

A cold wind is sweeping the canyon and impeding those who are working to save a few more lives. Those who have journeyed from Wallace to Mace and Burke say that the number of dead probably never will be known accurately, as the huge slide can never be entirely removed.

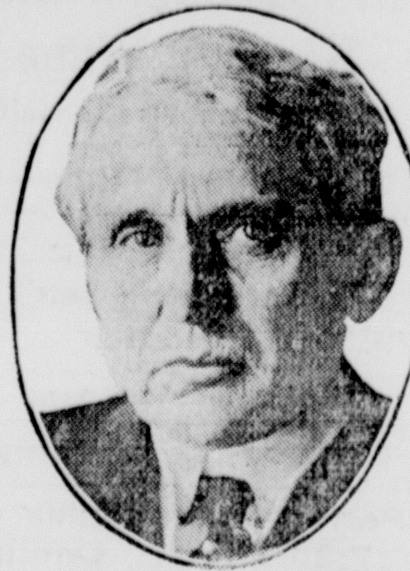

Twelve bodies have been recovered at Mace and thirty-seven persons are injured as a result of the slide.

Fall From Bridge Fatal.

Grand Forks, N. D., March 1.—As a result of a fall of thirty-two feet from the Great Northern bridge here Haskell Olson died in St. Michael's hospital. He was employed in hoisting heavy timbers from the ice to the bridge and, falling to the ice, he received such injuries that he lived only five hours.

Discusses Government Control of Railroads.

RAILROADS PAY THEIR TAX

Not Likely to Attempt to Reopen Gross Earnings Tax Case.

St. Paul, March 1.—The Great Northern and the Chicago Great West ern railroads apparently will not make any effort to reopen the gross earnings tax case which was decided against them in the federal supreme court a week ago, for both roads paid the full per cent tax upon their gross earnings for the year 1909. It is expected that they will also pay the back taxes which were in dispute.

The gross earnings of the railroads in the state show an increase of about 17 per cent over 1908. All the roads have now reported and paid their tax except the Burlington and a couple of switching roads, which will add about $20,000 to the $3,619,107.40 already paid into the state treasury.

These payments leave the state treasury in excellent condition.

Two DROWNED IN OHIO FLOODS

High Water Also Causes Much Damage to Property.

Cleveland, March 1.—At least two dead, many thousands homeless, scores of factories preparing to close down and property damage reaching into hundreds of thousands of dollars are the main results of the floods which have devastated Ohio during the past two days and which have not yet reached their full volume.

Catherine Hannan, aged four, was swept off her feet by a block of ice whirling down the flooded Nine Mile creek. The second fatality to be reported was at Youngstown, where a boy named Howard Lightbody was drowned.

At Elkton the Beaver creek has flooded the town. Canton is in almost a bad plight and the majority of the population is marooned in the upper stories of their homes.

East Liverpool reports that the potteries, which support hundreds of workmen, are preparing to close down. Similar news is sent by Youngstown in respect to its great steel plants.

At Zanesville 500 houses are reported under water. All service on the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern railroad between Zanesville and Newark has been suspended. Residents of Dayton are being moved from their homes by boats and the electric lines have practically stopped running.

GIFT FROM CONSERVATIVES

British Ministry Granted New Lease of Life.

London, March 1.—The outcome of the session of the house of commons was awaited as eagerly as the denouement of a most exciting tragedy by all the members of both houses able to pack themselves into the chamber.

Premier Asquith's government obtained a lease of life until after Easter. This was the gift of the Conservatives, who were so anxious to avoid two general elections successively within so brief a period that they accepted the premier's programme without calling for a vote.

When the house of commons meets after Easter it will take up the struggle to revolutionize the British government system. Resolutions will be presented to deprive the house of lords of all authority over finances and also of the power of vetoing the measures of the commons, leaving to the lords only the functions of delay and discussion.

If this plan succeeds the government proposes next year to proceed with the transformation of the house of lords from an hereditary to a democratic body.

Kills His Neighbor.

Fort Benton, Mont., March 1.—Word has been received here of the fatal shooting of Henry Brinkman at Maries postoffice, forty miles north of here in Chouteau county. Mark Cockrell gave himself up to the sheriff and says Brinkman knocked him down and that he shot Brinkman in self defense. Both are men of middle age, with families, living as neighbors several years.

Trust Buster Gives His Views on Government Control.

SHOULD PROHIBIT COMBINES

Famous St. Paul Attorney Declares That Until the Federal Government Is Ready to Control Railroad Rates and Facilities Entirely It Should Prohibit Consolidation Which Would Destroy Competition.

Minneapolis, March 1.—Until the government is ready to control railroad rates and facilities entirely it should prohibit consolidation which will destroy competition, declared Frank B. Kellogg of St. Paul in an address before the Minneapolis Traffic association. If the railroads of the country ever get into one great system it will be necessary for the government to regulate all the details of their business, but before then the government should not try it. There is always danger that the railroads will regulate the government instead, he added.

The address was given at a banquet of 300 prominent shippers, manufacturers and merchants of Minneapolis at the new rooms of the Commercial club at the Radisson hotel. Those present listened intently to everything Mr. Kellogg had to say and applauded freely when he made telling points.

Applause Is Vociferous.

The applause became vociferous when, after saying that there was no cause for the fear that proper regulation of transportation will hurt business, he gave to Colonel Roosevelt the credit for the enactment of the laws by which rebates and secret rates had been abolished. The audience listened carefully, but without applause, when he declared that "Mr. Roosevelt's successor, I believe, is going to carry on the work and strengthen the interstate commerce act," and outlined the changes in the law which the president is urging congress to enact.

Mr. Kellogg expressed a belief that competition is still the most potent factor in regulating rates and giving the people efficient service. But since the railroad is a natural monopoly for all stations that have but a single line it is not unreasonable that the government should so regulate the traffic that these stations do not suffer. There should be no unreasonable persecutions, but there should be strong control.

In some cases competition between the railroads and the water carriers has been destroyed because the railroads control the steamship lines. There is no use for this country to sink a half billion in the Panama canal if it permits the railroads to control the ships that will pass through there. The prohibition against the consolidation of parallel and competing railroads should be extended to the control of competing steamship lines by railroads.

NOT CONSIDERING SUBJECT

Street Railway Officials Have No Arbitration Proposition.

Philadelphia, March 1.—In spite of the constantly increasing number of demands by religious bodies and others that arbitration be resorted to by the strike against the Philadelphia Rapid Transit company, officials of that company declared that no proposition looking toward arbitration in any form is being considered by the directors.

There were few disturbances along any of the lines of the company and an increased number of cars left the barns. Heavy rain kept the crowds from the streets and cars were run on all lines until midnight.

Many labor leaders still hope public sympathy will force arbitration before the general strike voted for Sunday goes into effect Saturday. The national heads of labor organizations in the country are expected to reach here in time to participate in another meeting of labor chiefs and it is possible the general strike order may be changed then to become effective immediately in many trades.

FAVORS COMMERCE COURT

House Committee Reports on Administration Railroad Bill.

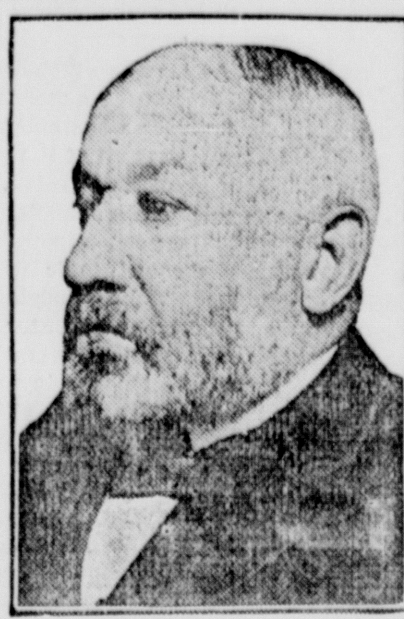

Washington, March 1.—By a majority of two the house committee on interstate commerce voted to create the interstate commerce court, which is one of the principal features of the Townsend administration railroad bill. Chairman Mann and Representative Stevens of Minnesota, Republicans, and Representatives Adamson of Georgia, Richardson of Texas, Slime of Tennessee and Peters of Massachusetts voted against the commerce court.

Guilty of Second Degree Murder.

Duluth, March 1.—The jury which tried Accapio Fuccirillo of Virginia, Minn., for killing Louis Grillo at Gilbert last December returned a verdict of murder in the second degree. The jury was out two days. The case was tried at Virginia.

RICHARD CROKER.

Former Tammany Leader Will Not Leave Ireland.

WILL REMAIN IN IRELAND

Richard Croker Will Not Leave the Emerald Isle.

London, March 1.—Sporting Life asserts that it has authority to deny the rumor that Richard Croker is abandoning his estate in Ireland and returning to the United States. The paper says it learns that no inducement would cause him to take such a step.

IN HONOR OF THE SPEAKER

President Taft to Give Dinner at the White House.

Washington, March 1.—It was announced at the White House that Thursday night of this week the president will give a formal state dinner in honor of Speaker Cannon. In this President Taft will be establishing a precedent, as heretofore speakers of the house have not been guests of honor at the White House dinners. It was stated that the president believed it fitting that the speaker should be so honored, in view of the fact that formal state dinners are given to the cabinet and the supreme court, and that the vice president is an honor guest at the cabinet dinner.

ROOT IN FAVOR OF INCOME TAX

New York Senator Defines His Attitude on Subject.

Albany, N. Y., March 1.—Ellihu Root's reasons for advocating the proposed income tax amendment and his views on the subject as opposed to those of Governor Hughes, who has publicly opposed the amendment, were presented to both branches of the New York legislature in the form of a letter addressed to State Senator Davenport.

"Since our conversation last month," the letter says in part, "I have given much consideration to the scope and effect of the proposed income tax amendment to the Constitution of the United States.

"Much as I respect the opinion of the governor of the state, I cannot agree with the view expressed in his special message of Jan. 5, and as I advocated in the senate the resolution to submit the proposed amendment, it seems appropriate that I should state my view of its effect.

"The objection made to the amendment is that it will confer upon the national government the power to tax incomes derived from bonds issued by the states or under the authority of the states, and will place the borrowing capacity of the state and its governmental agencies at the mercy of the federal taxing power.

"I do not find in the amendment any such meaning or effect. I do not consider that the amendment in any degree whatever will enlarge the taxing power of the national government or will have any effect except to relieve the exercise of that taxing power from the requirements that the tax shall be apportioned among the several states.

"It appears therefore that no danger to the powers or instrumentalities of the state is to be apprehended from the adoption of the amendment.

"It would be cause for regret if the amendment were rejected by the legislature of New York."

Methodists in Conference.

Waseca, Minn., March 1.—The mid-year council of the Minnesota annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal church opened here for a three days' session. The subject, "Christianity and America's Progress," was treated by O. W. Taylor of Rochester. Schuman of Owatonna spoke on "Social Problems," and E. V. Du Bois of Redwood Falls on "The Church and the Saloon."

River Floods Town.

Colfax, Wash., March 1.—The Palouse river has overflowed its banks, flooding the business and residence districts. Water is running several inches deep in many houses and is still rising.

RUBBER CRAZE IN ENGLAND

Frenzy Has Been Growing for Several Weeks.

London, March 1.—England is mad with excitement over speculation in rubber shares. The frenzy has been growing for weeks, until it has affected all classes, but there is nothing to indicate that the culmination has been reached or is likely to be reached soon.

Based originally on the increasing price of rubber, the speculation has become, so far as the public is concerned, a mere gamble for profits on the rise in shares caused by the boom itself, and without regard to the property or prospects of the companies concerned.

Shares are buoyantly active and many new companies are being floated, with many more to come. One day's newspapers, for instance contain no fewer than seven prospectuses inviting the modest sum of $4,000,000 from the public, which has gone rubber mad.

Properties which, when put on the market at a low figure before the outburst, failed to entice the rubber experts, now have been hurriedly acquired by syndicates who are promoting companies having capital of eight to ten times the amount of value assessed when the properties were rejected by the experts.

It is not too much to say that the boom is of an unprecedented nature. It makes the Kafir revival of a decade ago seem a trivial affair.

COURT ORDERS AN INQUIRY

Wants Methods of Oleomargarine Dealers Investigated.

Chicago, March 1.—Federal inquiry into methods of disposing of oleomargarine was ordered by Judge K. M. Landis of the United States district court, after he had sentenced one of four dealers who had been indicted for violating the oleomargarine regulations, to six years in the federal prison at Leavenworth and fined him $15,000. The man was William Broadwell. The cases of the other three, Edward Broadwell, Samuel Driesbach and Daniel Bortz, were continued until Thursday.

"It has been disclosed that probably not less than $15,000, and possibly more than $20,000 has been lost to the United States government as a result of Broadwell's activities," said Judge Landis in sentencing the oleomargarine dealer.

Woman Commits Suicide.

Fergus Falls, Minn., March 1.—Mrs. Karen O. Aarus, aged fifty-six, hanged herself at her home ten miles north of here. She had gone out to milk a cow and later was found hanging from a rafter in the barn. She and her husband went to Norway last year, and as he did not wish to return, she came back alone and had been melancholy since.

Congress Ignores Administration Programme.

OPPOSED TO SHIP SUBSIDY

Progressive Republicans Will Not Go Into a Caucus Where They Might Be Bound Hand and Foot to Support It—House Leaders Accuse Insurgents of Holding Up the Programme of the Chief Executive.

Washington, March 1.—For four months congress has now been in session, yet not one of the measures in President Taft's legislative programme has become a law, and none of them is well advanced through the legislative mill. The house, it is true, has disposed of seven of the fourteen great regular appropriation bills, as well as the river and harbor and statehood bills. In addition it has disposed of two bills that are expected to minimize if not entirely break up the white slave traffic, and has amended the employers' liability and bankruptcy laws. But of all these pieces of legislation, the statehood bill is the only one urged by the president. Another of the president's measures has been reported from the house committee, but is hanging fire in the house. This is the ship subsidy bill. The ostensible reason for the delay in considering it is to give the minority time to formulate their report and present a substitute bill. But the real reason why the house leaders procrastinate over taking the ship subsidy bill up for consideration is that the speaker fears another defeat at the hands of the insurgents and Democrats if he brings in a rule to protect the measure from amendment and prevent the house from giving it intelligent discussion.

The progressive Republicans are in the main opposed to ship subsidy, and will not go into a Republican caucus where they might be bound hand and foot to support it. For this reason the house leaders are charging the insurgents with holding up the president's programme.

Opposed by the Progressives.

This ship subsidy bill is the only one on the White House programme to which any considerable number of progressive Republicans are opposed. As to the rest of the programme they are hand in glove with the president.

The senate some time ago passed the principal one of the Taft conservation bills. This bill has been in the hands of the house lands committee for nearly two weeks without action on it. Mr. Weeks, chairman of the house postoffice committee, has made no effort to report out a postal savings banks bill, while the senate has had such a bill before it for weeks, and will vote on it Thursday. The senate interstate commerce committee has reported out the administration bill amending the interstate commerce law, but the house committee is still dragging this matter along in executive session.

The speaker claims that he wants to put these administration measures through the house as written by the administration, without adding to or taking from them. This attitude, it will be noted, is a marked departure from that he took toward the Roosevelt administration bills, notably the meat inspection bill. The speaker now seems to stand ready to abdicate the legislative functions of the house and pass legislation as it is drawn up at the White House or the department of justice. The progressive Republicans and the Democrats decline to abdicate their functions, and insist they must have the right of careful consideration and amending, if they think wise, any bill that comes to them from outside.

AGAINST INDICTED PACKERS

Prosecutor Garven of New Jersey to Take Action.

New York, March 1.—The next move of Prosecutor Garven of Hudson county, New Jersey, against the indicted packers and their companies will be to apply at Trenton, the state capital, for the minutes of the accused corporations. If these are not produced an order will be asked compelling the companies to show cause why they should not be dissolved for contempt. Prosecutor Garven would not say when he intended to take such steps.

The sheriff will shortly report which of the corporations and their officers indicted are now in his jurisdiction. Copies of the capias and indictments against those elsewhere will then be sent to the police of the counties where they live. If the police refuse to make arrests the governor of New Jersey will then make requisitions for extradition.

Gotch Throws Essen.

Chicago, March 1.—Frank Gotch had an easy time disposing of Jimmy Essen, calling himself the champion of Scotland, in a wrestling bout at the Coliseum. Essen was on defensive throughout.

NEW LAND ALLOTTING PLAN.

Government Will Issue Cards to All Persons in a Hall on March 1.

Unwilling that a record breaking endurance test should be held with the approval of the government, Secretary Ballinger has adopted a novel plan for the allotment of the forty acre farms at Yuma, Cal., during March.

The necessity for the plan arose from the anxiety of claimants to be the first on the spot when the allotments were made. The secretary was informed the other day by telegraph that more than 200 men and women already had formed in line before the land office in Los Angeles so as to be the first on hand on March 1, when the allotments are to be made. The hardships which would result from such an endurance test did not appeal to the secretary, so he wired the land office that a different plan has been adopted.

In accordance with the new arrangement the secretary has ordered that a hall or a baseball park large enough to accommodate all who desire to participate in the allotment be engaged in Los Angeles for March 1. To those assembled in this hall or park by 9 a. m. on that day cards will be distributed by agents of the government. On these the name, age, height and postoffice address of each home seeker must be written.

At any time between March 1 and 10 the applicant may appear at the land office in Los Angeles and upon being identified by the card may make application for any of the 172 farms that the government is to give away. An opportunity will be given to those who file on the same farm to decide among themselves which shall have the land. If this is not done the government officials will decide the lucky person by lot.

IRATE CITIZEN'S "EGGSIBIT"

Boiled Egg He Thought Bad Sent to Department of Justice.

An exhibit received at the department of justice in Washington from an indignant citizen of Clark, S. D., has aroused some of Mr. Wickesham's humorists to action. Here is the letter addressed to the attorney general that accompanied the exhibit:

Dear Sir—This day send you a boiled egg, which I believe is bad. I have had them served to me several times. Therefore I send the sample to you for a test. I am not acquainted with the federal inspectors. Therefore I send this to you by express. This served to me at a restaurant. I remain yours truly, G. A. NEUENDORF.

Clark, S. D.
Filing Clerk Arthur Robb, who received the letter and exhibit, promptly passed both along to Henry Ricketts, secretary to Assistant Attorney General Fowler, who has charge of prosecutions under the pure food law. Mr. Robb also sent along this memorandum:

The accompanying eggshibit was transmitted for federal inspection as an extremely bad case of violation of food and drug act. It violates other things as well. Eggshibit came by express. It doesn't seem as if a man could be served with such extraordinary eggs under the pure food law boiled. Such eggs ought to be scrambled.

Mr. Ricketts returned the exhibit "respectfully with an explanation" and these instructions: "Please file. If you haven't a file to use on it, use a saw or an s.x. Anyway, file, bury, cremate or demolish."

BANDIT'S RETURN FOR FAVOR

Offered to Restore Money of Theater Owner He Held Up.

R. M. Gulick, owner and manager of a prominent theater in Pittsburgh, was the victim of a daring holdup and robbery early the other morning. Within a few doors of his home two masked men pointed revolvers at his head and demanded his valuables. He threw up his hands while one of the men searched him, but secured less than $5.

While this was transpiring Gulick kept up a running fire of good natured pleasantries in order to detract the attention of the highwaymen from a $1,500 diamond stud and an equally valuable ring. This was successful, for after securing his money and a few pocket pieces the thieves asked him politely who he was. He told them.

"Yes; I remember you," said one of them. "You gave me the first free seat I ever had in a show seventeen years ago. I never forgot you for it, as I had only 17 cents at the time. You can have your money back if you want it. I never forget a favor."

Austrian Baron Killed in Duel.

Vienna, March 1.—Baron Hermann Widerhofer, a government official, and son of the emperor's late physician, was shot and killed in a duel by his former friend and colleague, Dr. Mayer.

Killed by Falling Tree.

Dell Rapids, S. D., March 1.—Olaf Nyhus was instantly killed at Baltic by being struck by a falling tree. His neck was broken.

Man and Horse.

The working power of an able-bodied man is just about one-tenth that of a horse.

FRANK B. KELLOGG.

Discusses Government Control of Railroads.

RAILROADS PAY THEIR TAX

St. Paul, March 1.—The Great Northern and the Chicago Great West ern railroads apparently will not make any effort to reopen the gross earnings tax case which was decided against them in the federal supreme court a week ago, for both roads paid the full per cent tax upon their gross earnings for the year 1909. It is expected that they will also pay the back taxes which were in dispute.

The gross earnings of the railroads in the state show an increase of about 17 per cent over 1908. All the roads have now reported and paid their tax except the Burlington and a couple of switching roads, which will add about $20,000 to the $3,619,107.40 already paid into the state treasury.

These payments leave the state treasury in excellent condition.

TWO DROWNED IN OHIO FLOODS

High Water Also Causes Much Damage to Property.

Cleveland, March 1.—At least two dead, many thousands homeless, scores of factories preparing to close down and property damage reaching into hundreds of thousands of dollars are the main results of the floods which have devastated Ohio during the past two days and which have not yet reached their full volume.

Catherine Hannan, aged four, was swept off her feet by a block of ice whirling down the flooded Nine Mile creek. The second fatality to be reported was at Youngstown, where a boy named Howard Lightbody was drowned.

At Elkton the Beaver creek has flooded the town. Canton is in almost as bad a plight and the majority of the population is marooned in the upper stories of their homes.

East Liverpool reports that the potteries, which support hundreds of workmen, are preparing to close down. Similar news is sent by Youngstown in respect to its great steel plants.

At Zanesville 500 houses are reported under water. All service on the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern railroad between Zanesville and Newark has been suspended. Residents of Dayton are being moved from their homes by boats and the electric lines have practically stopped running.

GIFT FROM CONSERVATIVES

British Ministry Granted New Lease of Life.

London, March 1.—The outcome of the session of the house of commons was awaited as eagerly as the denouement of a most exciting tragedy by all the members of both houses able to pack themselves into the chamber. Premier Asquith's government obtained a lease of life until after Easter. This was the gift of the Conservatives, who were so anxious to avoid two general elections successively within so brief a period that they accepted the premier's programme without calling for a vote.

When the house of commons meets after Easter it will take up the struggle to revolutionize the British government system. Resolutions will be presented to deprive the house of lords of all authority over finances and also of the power of vetoing the measures of the commons, leaving to the lords only the functions of delay and discussion.

If this plan succeeds the government proposes next year to proceed with the transformation of the house of lords from an hereditary to a democratic body.

Kills His Neighbor.

Fort Benton, Mont., March 1.—Word has been received here of the fatal shooting of Henry Brinkman at Marias postoffice, forty miles north of here in Chouteau county. Mark Cockrell gave himself up to the sheriff and says Brinkman knocked him down and that he shot Brinkman in self defense. Both are men of middle age, with families, living as neighbors several years.

KELLOGG TALKS ON RAILROADS

Trust Buster Gives His Views on Government Control.

SHOULD PROHIBIT COMBINES

Famous St. Paul Attorney Declares That Until the Federal Government Is Ready to Control Railroad Rates and Facilities Entirely It Should Prohibit Consolidation Which Would Destroy Competition.

Minneapolis, March 1.—Until the government is ready to control railroad rates and facilities entirely it should prohibit consolidation which will destroy competition, declared Frank B. Kellogg of St. Paul in an address before the Minneapolis Traffic association. If the railroads of the country ever get into one great system it will be necessary for the government to regulate all the details of their business, but before then the government should not try it. There is always danger that the railroads will regulate the government instead, he added.

The address was given at a banquet of 300 prominent shippers, manufacturers and merchants of Minneapolis at the new rooms of the Commercial club at the Radisson hotel. Those present listened intently to everything Mr. Kellogg had to say and applauded freely when he made telling points.

Applause is vociferous. The applause became vociferous when, after saying that there was no cause for the fear that proper regulation of transportation will hurt business, he gave to Colonel Roosevelt the credit for the enactment of the laws by which rebates and secret rates had been abolished. The audience listened carefully, but without applause, when he declared that "Mr. Roosevelt's successor, I believe, is going to carry on the work and strengthen the interstate commerce act," and outlined the changes in the law which the president is urging congress to enact.

Mr. Kellogg expressed a belief that competition is still the most potent factor in regulating rates and giving the people efficient service. But since the railroad is a natural monopoly for all stations that have but a single line it is not unreasonable that the government should so regulate the traffic that these stations do not suffer. There should be no unreasonable persecutions, but there should be strong control.

In some cases competition between the railroads and the water carriers has been destroyed because the railroads control the steamship lines. There is no use for this country to sink a half billion in the Panama canal if it permits the railroads to control the ships that will pass through there. The prohibition against the consolidation of parallel and competing railroads should be extended to the control of competing steamship lines by railroads.

NOT CONSIDERING SUBJECT

Street Railway Officials Have No Arbitration Proposition.

Philadelphia, March 1.—In spite of the constantly increasing number of demands by religious bodies and others that arbitration be resorted to settle the strike against the Philadelphia Rapid Transit company, officials of that company declared that no proposition looking toward arbitration in any form is being considered by the directors.

There were few disturbances along any of the lines of the company and an increased number of cars left the barns. Heavy rain kept the crowds from the streets and cars were run on all lines until midnight.

Many labor leaders still hope public sympathy will force arbitration before the general strike voted for Sunday goes into effect Saturday. The national heads of labor organizations in the country are expected to reach here in time to participate in another meeting of labor chiefs and it is possible the general strike order may be changed then to become effective immediately in many trades.

FAVORS COMMERCE COURT

House Committee Reports on Administration Railroad Bill.

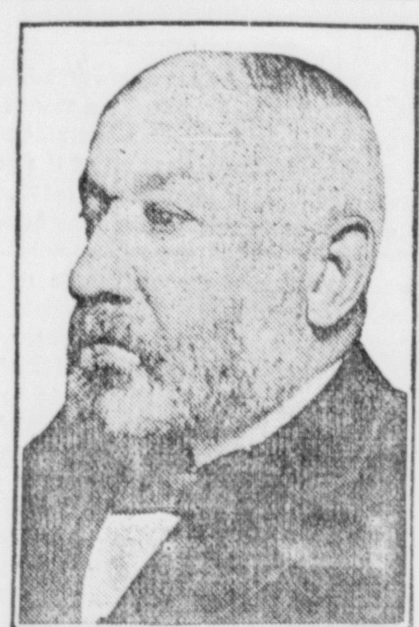

Washington, March 1.—By a majority of two the house committee on interstate commerce voted to create the interstate commerce court, which is one of the principal features of the Townsend administration railroad bill. Chairman Mann and Representative Stevens of Minnesota, Republicans, and Representatives Adamson of Georgia, Richardson of Alabama, Bartlett of Georgia, Russell of Texas, Sims of Tennessee and Peters of Massachusetts voted against the commerce court.

Guilty of Second Degree Murder.

Duluth, March 1.—The jury which tried Accapio Puccirillo of Virginia, Minn., for killing Louis Grillo at Gilbert last December returned a verdict of murder in the second degree. The jury was out two days. The case was tried at Virginia.

RICHARD CROKER.

Former Tammany Leader Will Not Leave Ireland.

WILL REMAIN IN IRELAND

Richard Croker Will Not Leave the Emerald Isle.

London, March 1.—Sporting Life asserts that it has authority to deny the rumor that Richard Croker is abandoning his estate in Ireland and returning to the United States. The paper says it learns that no inducement would cause him to take such a step.

IN HONOR OF THE SPEAKER

President Taft to Give Dinner at the White House.

Washington, March 1.—It was announced at the White House that Thursday night of this week the president will give a formal state dinner in honor of Speaker Cannon. In this President Taft will be establishing a precedent, as heretofore speakers of the house have not been guests of honor at the White House dinners. It was stated that the president believed it fitting that the speaker should be so honored, in view of the fact that formal state dinners are given to the cabinet and the supreme court, and that the vice president is an honor guest at the cabinet dinner.

ROOT IN FAVOR OF INCOME TAX

New York Senator Defines His Attitude on Subject.

Albany, N. Y., March 1.—Elihu Root's reasons for advocating the proposed income tax amendment and his views on the subject as opposed to those of Governor Hughes, who has publicly opposed the amendment, were presented to both branches of the New York legislature in the form of a letter addressed to State Senator Davenport.

"Since our conversation last month," the letter says in part, "I have given much consideration to the scope and effect of the proposed income tax amendment to the Constitution of the United States.

"Much as I respect the opinion of the governor of the state, I cannot agree with the view expressed in his special message of Jan. 5, and as I advocated in the senate the resolution to submit the proposed amendment, it seems appropriate that I should state my view of its effect.

"The objection made to the amendment is that it will confer upon the national government the power to tax incomes derived from bonds issued by the states or under the authority of the states, and will place the borrowing capacity of the state and its governmental agencies at the mercy of the federal taxing power.

"I do not find in the amendment any such meaning or effect. I do not consider that the amendment in any degree whatever will enlarge the taxing power of the national government or will have any effect except to relieve the exercise of that taxing power from the requirements that the tax shall be apportioned among the several states.

"It appears therefore that no danger to the powers or instrumentalities of the state is to be apprehended from the adoption of the amendment.

"It would be cause for regret if the amendment were rejected by the legislature of New York."

Methodists in Conference.

Waseca, Minn., March 1.—The mid-year council of the Minnesota annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal church opened here for a three days' session. The subject, "Christianity and America's Progress," was treated by O. W. Taylor of Rochester. Schuman of Owatonna spoke on "Social Problems," and E. V. Du Bois of Redwood Falls on "The Church and the Saloon."

River Floods Town.

Colfax, Wash., March 1.—The Palouse river has overflowed its banks, flooding the business and residence districts. Water is running several inches deep in many houses and is still rising.

RUBBER CRAZE IN ENGLAND

Frenzy Has Been Growing for Several Weeks.

London, March 1.—England is mad with excitement over speculation in rubber shares. The frenzy has been growing for weeks, until it has affected all classes, but there is nothing to indicate that the culmination has been reached or is likely to be reached soon.

Based originally on the increasing price of rubber, the speculation has become, so far as the public is concerned, a mere gamble for profits on the rise in shares caused by the boom itself, and without regard to the property or prospects of the companies concerned.

Shares are buoyantly active and many new companies are being floated, with many more to come. One day's newspapers, for instance, contain no fewer than seven prospectuses inviting the modest sum of $4,000,000 from the public, which has gone rubber mad.

Properties which, when put on the market at a low figure before the outbreak, failed to entice the rubber experts, now have been hurriedly acquired by syndicates who are promoting companies having capital of eight to ten times the amount of value as assessed when the properties were rejected by the experts.

It is not too much to say that the boom is of an unprecedented nature. It makes the Kafir revival of a decade ago seem a trivial affair.

COURT ORDERS AN INQUIRY

Wants Methods of Oleomargarine Dealers Investigated.

Chicago, March 1.—Federal inquiry into methods of disposing of oleomargarine was ordered by Judge K. M. Landis of the United States district court, after he had sentenced one of four dealers who had been indicted for violating the oleomargarine regulations, to six years in the federal prison at Leavenworth and fined him $15,000. The man was William Broadwell. The cases of the other three, Edward Broadwell, Samuel Driesbach and Daniel Bortz, were continued until Thursday.

"It has been disclosed that probably not less than $15,000, and possibly more than $20,000 have been lost by the United States government as a result of Broadwell's activities," said Judge Landis in sentencing the oleomargarine dealer.

Woman Commits Suicide.

Fergus Falls, Minn., March 1.—Mrs. Karon O. Aarus, aged fifty-six, hanged herself at her home ten miles north of here. She had gone out to milk a cow and later was found hanging from a rafter in the barn. She and her husband went to Norway last year, and as he did not wish to return, she came back alone and had been melancholy since.

Congress Ignores Administration Programme.

OPPOSED TO SHIP SUBSIDY

Progressive Republicans Will Not Go Into a Caucus Where They Might Be Bound Hand and Foot to Support It—House Leaders Accuse Insurgents of Holding Up the Programme of the Chief Executive.

Washington, March 1.—For four months congress has now been in session, yet not one of the measures in President Taft's legislative programme has become a law, and none of them is well advanced through the legislative mill. The house, it is true, has disposed of seven of the fourteen great regular appropriation bills, as well as the river and harbor and statehood bills. In addition it has disposed of two bills that are expected to minimize if not entirely break up the white slave traffic, and has amended the employers' liability and bankruptcy laws. But of all these pieces of legislation, the statehood bill is the only one urged by the president. Another of the president's measures has been reported from the house committee, but is hanging fire in the house. This is the ship subsidy bill. The ostensible reason for the delay in considering it is to give the minority time to formulate their report and present a substitute bill. But the real reason why the house leaders procrastinate over taking the ship subsidy bill up for consideration is that the speaker fears another defeat at the hands of the insurgents and Democrats if he brings in a rule to protect the measure from amendment and prevent the house from giving it intelligent discussion.

The progressive Republicans are in the main opposed to ship subsidy, and will not go into a Republican caucus where they might be bound hand and foot to support it. For this reason the house leaders are charging the insurgents with holding up the president's programme.

Opposed by the Progressives. This ship subsidy bill is the only one on the White House programme to which any considerable number of progressive Republicans are opposed. As to the rest of the programme they are hand in glove with the president.

The senate some time ago passed the principal one of the Taft conservation bills. This bill has been in the hands of the house lands committee for nearly two weeks without action on it. Mr. Weeks, chairman of the house postoffice committee, has made no effort to report out a postal savings banks bill, while the senate has had such a bill before it for weeks, and will vote on it Thursday. The senate interstate commerce committee has reported out the administration bill amending the interstate commerce law, but the house committee is still dragging this matter along in executive session.

The speaker claims that he wants to put these administration measures through the house as written by the administration, without adding to or taking from them. This attitude, it will be noted, is a marked departure from that he took toward the Roosevelt administration bills, notably the meat inspection bill. The speaker now seems to stand ready to abdicate the legislative functions of the house and pass legislation as it is drawn up at the White House or the department of justice. The progressive Republicans and the Democrats decline to abdicate their functions, and insist they must have the right of careful consideration and amending, if they think wise, any bill that comes to them from outside.

AGAINST INDICTED PACKERS

Prosecutor Garven of New Jersey to Take Action.

New York, March 1.—The next move of Prosecutor Garven of Hudson county, New Jersey, against the indicted packers and their companies will be to apply at Trenton, the state capital, for the minutes of the accused corporations. If these are not produced an order will be asked compelling the companies to show cause why they should not be dissolved for contumacy. Prosecutor Garven would not say when he intended to take such steps.

The sheriff will shortly report which of the corporations and their officers indicted are now in his jurisdiction. Copies of the capias and indictments against those elsewhere will then be sent to the police of the counties where they live. If the police fail to make arrests the governor of New Jersey will then make regulations for extradition.

Gotch Throws Essen.

Chicago, March 1.—Frank Gotch had an easy time in disposing of Jimmy Essen, calling him if the champion of Scotland in a wrestling bout at the Coliseum. Essen was on defensive throughout.

TUESDAY, MARCH 1, 1910.

Fifteen years ago grape fruit was unknown in this country and now four million boxes a year is the consumption in the United States.

C. B. Mahen has filed for representative in the 52d district composed of Cass, Itasca, Koochiching, Aitkin and Carlton counties. The gentleman's home is at Wealthwood.

The Indians of Northern Minnesota are opposed to the establishment of a Chippewa Indian school in this state and have joined in a protest to the Miller bill which the congressman from the Eighth district has introduced.

The Washington dispatches would indicate that W. W. Rich is being groomed for the position now held by John Peterson, collector of internal revenue at St. Paul for the district of Minnesota. Mr. Rich is at present custodian of the public building at St. Paul, a position that pays $1,600 while the collectorship pays better than $5,000 a year.

So far the effect of the Ballinger-Pinchot controversy has resulted in letting the public in on the secret that two such men could not work together and that it was necessary for the president to get rid of one of them, at least. Pinchot, being the man to go, is now endeavoring to convince the public that President Taft made a mistake in his choice. The present investigation will have the effect of settling the matter.

The St. Paul and Minneapolis papers now, without fear of successful contradiction, advertise the fact that Northern Minnesota should come into her own, and actually publish figures to show that reappointment is only just. Some of the up-country newspapers are afraid the staid old Pioneer Press will claim the credit for discovering that the time was ripe for demanding that the northern section be given its just dues. Funny how public sentiment will put newspapers on the right track.

M. M. Williams, of Little Falls, has been appointed a member of the board of regents of the state university to succeed S. M. Owen, whose recent death left a vacancy on the board. Mr. Williams' selection is a wise one and will meet with the approval of the people of the entire northern part of the state, and the entire state when his fine qualities as an educator, and his knowledge along certain lines necessary to an institution of the kind to which he has just been appointed as one of the managers, are known. Mr. Williams will be a valuable acquisition to the board and Gov. Eberhart should be commended in making the wise selection that he has.

A west Duluth preacher found his church door spiked and the windows boarded up and everything arranged to keep him from occupying his pulpit by a number of his congregation who were displeased with him and who at a meeting declared to get along without his services. The minister, however, procured a hammer and opened the house of worship and proceeded to deliver his usual sermon, preaching peace and good will toward all men. Whether he will be arrested for housebreaking or what methods will be employed to counteract his apparent ability to stick has not been disclosed, but he says he has been employed for a year and he proposes to keep on the job and collect his pay if it takes the courts to help him accomplish his end.

While the time for taking the census is still some distance away it is none too soon to begin a campaign of education in order that all of the people in this city shall be counted, as during the next ten years the figures returned by the census enumerators must stand for the authentic population of Brainerd. Many people regard the work of the enumerator by their ignorance and suspicious that the information is to be used in some manner that will injure them either in a financial or other manner. Some people seem to think it is none of the enumerators business when they were married, how old they are or how many children they have got. Then again there is that class of people who think the information is being gotten for the purpose of boosting the taxes or in order to make some charge against them. These people do not understand that the matter is entirely confidential and that nothing is disclosed—and furthermore that those who refuse to answer the questions may be arrested. Each enumerator is under a bond of $1,000 that he will not disclose any of the information received, and a campaign of education should be carried on in the public schools that the children may inform their parents, especially those of foreign birth, that the questions answered cannot be used for deportation proceedings, extradition measures, army or navy conscription, internal revenue investigations, compulsory school attendance, or in any way affect the life, liberty or property of any person. These matters cannot be too firmly impressed upon the public and some means should be employed to get the matter before them. The newspaper publication will reach the reading classes and they will be informed, but the foreign element who do not read but depend upon their school children for the news can be reached if the matter is discussed in the schools, and it should be as important a branch of the education of the children as any that they study. We want everybody counted and the only way to accomplish the end is to agitate the matter. Any suggestion as to how the matter should be accomplished will gladly be given space in The Daily Dispatch, the more publicity the better.

His Views on Suffrage.

When a female canvasser asked an old farmer to sign a petition in favor of a woman's movement he eyed the document for awhile with suspicion. "No; I'm agin it, sure," was the reply, with the emphasis of a man who had had some domestic infelicity. "A woman who's allus a-movin' is allus a-gettin' in trouble. If you've got anything to keep her quiet I'll sign it."—Ladies' Home Journal.

WEATHER FORECAST

Partly cloudy tonight and Wednesday. Colder tonight.

TUESDAY, MARCH 1, 1910.

Fifteen years ago grape fruit was unknown in this country and now four million boxes a year is the consumption in the United States.

C. B. Mahen has filed for representative in the 52d district composed of Cass, Itasca, Koochiching, Aitkin and Carlton counties. The gentleman's home is at Wealthwood.

The Indians of Northern Minnesota are opposed to the establishment of a Chippewa Indian school in this state and have joined in a protest to the Miller bill which the congressman from the Eighth district has introduced.

The Washington dispatches would indicate that W. W. Rich is being groomed for the position now held by John Peterson, collector of internal revenue at St. Paul for the district of Minnesota. Mr. Rich is at present custodian of the public building at St. Paul, a position that pays $1,600 while the collectorship pays better than $5,000 a year.

So far the effect of the Ballinger-Pinchot controversy has resulted in letting the public in on the secret that two such men could not work together and that it was necessary for the president to get rid of one of them, at least. Pinchot, being the man to go, is now endeavoring to convince the public that President Taft made a mistake in his choice. The present investigation will have the effect of settling the matter.

The St. Paul and Minneapolis papers now, without fear of successful contradiction, advertise the fact that Northern Minnesota should come into her own, and actually publish figures to show that reappointment is only just. Some of the up-country newspapers are afraid the staid old Pioneer Press will claim the credit for discovering that the time was ripe for demanding that the northern section be given its just dues. Funny how public sentiment will put newspapers on the right track.

M. M. Williams, of Little Falls, has been appointed a member of the board of regents of the state university to succeed S. M. Owen, whose recent death left a vacancy on the board. Mr. Williams' selection is a wise one and will meet with the approval of the people of the entire northern part of the state, and the entire state when his fine qualities as an educator, and his knowledge along certain lines necessary to an institution of the kind to which he has just been appointed as one of the managers, are known. Mr. Williams will be a valuable acquisition to the board and Gov. Eberhart should be commended in making the wise selection that he has.

A west Duluth preacher found his church door spiked and the windows boarded up and everything arranged to keep him from occupying his pulpit by a number of his congregation who were displeased with him and who at a meeting declared to get along without his services. The minister, however, procured a hammer and opened the house of worship and proceeded to deliver his usual sermon, preaching peace and good will toward all men. Whether he will be arrested for housebreaking or what methods will be employed to counteract his apparent ability to stick has not been disclosed, but he says he has been employed for a year and he proposes to keep on the job and collect his pay if it takes the courts to help him accomplish his end.

While the time for taking the census is still some distance away it is none too soon to begin a campaign of education in order that all of the people in this city shall be counted, as during the next ten years the figures returned by the census enumerators must stand for the authentic population of Brainerd. Many people retard the work of the enumerator by their ignorance and suspicious that the information is to be used in some manner that will injure them either in a financial or other manner. Some people seem to think it is none of the enumerators business when they were married, how old they are or how many children they have got. Then again there is that class of people who think the information is being gotten for the purpose of boosting the taxes or in order to make some charge against them. These people do not understand that the matter is entirely confidential and that nothing is disclosed—and furthermore that those who refuse to answer the questions may be arrested. Each enumerator is under a bond of $1,000 that he will not disclose any of the information received, and a campaign of education should be carried on in the public schools that the children may inform their parents, especially those of foreign birth, that the questions answered cannot be used for deportation proceedings, extradition measures, army or navy conscription, internal revenue investigations, compulsory school attendance, or in any way affect the life, liberty or property of any person. These matters cannot be too firmly impressed upon the public and some means should be employed to get the matter before them. The newspaper publication will reach the reading classes and they will be informed, but the foreign element who do not read but depend upon their school children for the news can be reached if the matter is discussed in the schools, and it should be as important a branch of the education of the children as any that they study. We want everybody counted and the only way to accomplish the end is to agitate the matter. Any suggestion as to how the matter should be accomplished will gladly be given space in The Daily Dispatch, the more publicity the better.

SHOPS WORKING ON FULL TIME

Northern Pacific Shops Went Onto Full Time in all Departments Today

TEN HOURS FOR CARMEN

Locomotive Side Put on Nine Hours and Prospects for Year Look Good

The Northern Pacific shops went on full time in all departments this morning. This means a bigger pay check for at least 800 Brainerd bread winners. The boiler shop was only department which was on full time and they had been working that way but a few weeks, the entire shops having been on short hours for over two months. Full time in the Brainerd shops means ten hours for the car shops and store department and nine hours for the locomotive shops. All prospects point to the coming season as being one of the best in the history of the city. It is expected that the new foundry, the appropriation for which was approved early in the winter, will be built as soon as spring opens and the present foundry added to the car shops, which will permit the working of probably 200 more men in that department. There are hundreds of "bad order" cars not only in Brainerd, but at other points, held up by lack of yard room here, and with the large amount of construction and improvement work undertaken for the coming season there cannot help but be all the car repairing, as well as locomotive work that the shops can possibly do. Under the agreement with the men that there should be reduction of time before there was reduction of force the shops are practically full handed at present and the April pay day will be fully up to the summer standard, something which is not usually the case.

Return Date

Manager Jenks of the Star theatre is trying to book the "Girls That's all the Candy" for a return date as he said they are the best shows that he has played in his house in a long time. When the prices were announced, 25c, 50c, 75c and $1.00, for this attraction people formed the idea that it was a cheap company as nearly all of the big musical shows get $2.00 for the best seats. Some people remained away on this account but the fair sized crowd which did attend found the show to be equally as good as any of the high priced attractions and for just half the admission. Mr. Jenks has offered this company a guarantee to come back as he wishes to give the citizens of Sioux City good shows, and was sure that standing room would be at a premium on a return date.—Sioux City, (Iowa) Tribune, Dec. 30th.

Byron's Troubadours will appear at the Brainerd opera house Monday, evening, March 14, under the auspices of Brainerd Lodge, No. 615, B. P. O. E. This organization is one of the most clever organizations on the road and includes the Troubadour's Grand Orchestra, Saxophone, Quartet and Quintet, Celebrated Organ chimes Trio-violin, cello and harp, the Byrdonolin, and various soloist and duettists. The fact that it is under the auspices of the Elks is sufficient guarantee of its high character.

TRAIN BLOCKADED

Slight Squall Last Night Sufficient to Block Track South of Brainerd

The storm last night apparently did not amount to much, yet it was enough to interfere seriously with traffic. The local freight between this city and Little Falls was stuck between here and Crow Wing and it was necessary to send an engine from here to pull it out of the drift and to send a snow plow up from Little Falls to clear the track. The north bound Minnesota & International train was delayed by the fact that its engine came up from Little Falls in the morning for some repairs and had to wait till the snow plow got here before it could proceed to Little Falls.

MIGHT HAVE BEEN VERY BAD FIRE

Fire Department Called Out to Extinguish Blaze in Business District

PILE OF STRAW THE CAUSE

Straw Had Been Used to Cover Ice in Yard Back of West's Restaurant

What might have proven a very disastrous conflagration, was nipped in the bud Monday night. The fire department was called to the rear of George West's restaurant to extinguish a fire in a pile of straw which had been used to cover a pile of ice. The ice was piled near the fence and straw stuffed between the board fence and the ice, and the pile was covered with straw. It is probable that someone walking down the alley lit a cigar and flipped the match over the fence, not knowing that the straw was there. At any rate the straw was blazing merrily and the fence had caught fire when the department was called and reached the scene. Little damage was done.

FARM, HOME AND GARDEN

Cows on Cut-over Land

I have never seen in the experience page of the Farmer any remarks urging the settlers in a new country like this here in Cass county, to keep a few cows to help out while clearing land. Let me tell you what our cows did last year, as we kept a book account of what they brought us. We milked from one to seven cows, and during the year they were all dry once, but not all at the same time. We had no separator, but made from Jan. 1 1909, to Jan. 1, 1910, $220 and have seven calves. Now I do not claim this is anything extra, for I know they could have done better if we had been prepared to keep cows and feed them like they do in older settled communities; but while clearing up a piece of timber land to make a home for a family of eight, that small sum is not to be sneered at. I consider the calves are worth what the feed cost, for the cows made their own living from May till November, and one can cut enough wild hay during the summer to feed them in the winter, and an acre or two of breaking down to turnips or rutabagas will supply succulent feed that will take the place of grain. For shorts, just sell a few pounds of butter and buy a sack. The milk and butter from these cows are about half our living.—C. M. Hanks in Duluth-News Tribune.

The Minnesota Dairyman well says: "Let the motto of 1910 be not how many cows, but how good cows and how much we can get from them."

Prof. McGuire says that the heifers from the first cross of a pure-bred dairy sire upon common cows will result in the heifers giving in their two-year-old form fifty pounds of butter more than the common cows from which they came. This being true, and we have no reason to doubt it, a man owning ten head of common cows can afford to purchase a good bull to head his herd.

If You Are a Trifle Sensitive About the size of your shoes, it's some satisfaction to know that many people can wear shoes a size smaller by shaking Allen's Foot-Ease, the antiseptic powder into them. Just the thing for Dancing parties, patent leather shoes, and for breaking in new shoes. When rubbers or overshoes become necessary and your shoes pinch, Allen's Foot-Ease gives instant relief. Sold everywhere. 5c. Sample FREE. Address: Allen S. Olmstead, LeRoy, N. Y. Don't accept any substitute.

NATIONAL TUBERCULOSIS DAY

Sunday April 24th, is to be Thus Observed in the Churches of America

Announcement of a national tuberculosis Sunday to be held on April 24th in 215,000 churches of the United States was made today by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis.

Following campaigns against consumption that have been carried on in the churches of hundreds of cities, and sermons on tuberculosis that have been preached before thousands of congregations during the past year a movement has been started to establish a permanent tuberculosis Sunday, on which it is hoped that every one of the 33,000,000 churchgoers in the United States will hear the gospel of health. It is planned to enlist the active co-operation of anti-tuberculosis organizations, labor unions, fraternal organizations, and other bodies together with the churches in the movement. The aid of leading churchmen in many of the principal denominations has already been offered. All of the large interdenominational bodies, such as the Young Men's Christian Association, the King's Daughters and Sons, and the various young people's societies are also in sympathy with the anti-tuberculosis campaign.

It is planned that on April 24th tuberculosis sermons shall be preached in all the churches of the country. Literature will be distributed to members of the congregations, and in every way an effort will be made to teach that tuberculosis is a dangerous disease and that it can be prevented and cured.

Clergymen who desire to obtain additional information in regard to tuberculosis will be able to secure literature from state and local anti-tuberculosis associations and boards of health, as well as from the National Association.

CELEBRATED HIS BIRTHDAY

Employees of the Slipp-Gruenhagen Co. Honor the Company's President

Yesterday was the 49th birthday of F. H. Gruenhagen, president of the Slipp-Gruenhagen Co., and his associates in the firm and employees sprang a pleasant surprise on him. They gathered at his home immediately after the store closed for the evening and partook of a bountiful oyster supper which Mrs. Gruenhagen who was in the secret, had prepared. The evening was very pleasantly spent and the guests presented Mr. Gruenhagen with a handsome carving chair and a smoking jacket.

$100 Reward, $1000

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Saved a Soldier's Life

Facing death from shot and shell in the civil war was more agreeable to J. A. Stone, of Kemp, Texas, than facing it from what doctors said was consumption. "I contracted a stubborn cold" he writes, "that developed a cough, that stuck to me in spite of all remedies for years. My weight ran down to 130 pounds. Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery which completely cured me. I now weigh 178 pounds." For coughs, colds, lagrippe, asthma, hemorrhage, hoarseness, croup, whooping cough, and lung trouble, its supreme. 50c, $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by all druggists.

Sale of Dry Goods Stock and Fixtures

The undersigned will receive sealed bids for the stock of dry goods, furniture and fixtures of Richard Parker, located at 704 Front Street, Brainerd, Minnesota, up to 5 p. m., on March 8th, 1910. Reserving the right to reject any and all bids.

Mr. Parker suffered a loss by fire in the year 1907, and re-opened about November, 1908, with practically a new stock and new fixtures. The stock is in splendid shape and the fixtures are especially attractive. The store is modern and up-to-date in every respect.

The stock invoices about $9,500, and furniture and fixtures about $2,500.

This is a new stock, new fixtures, and in a new building well located, and with the most excellent prospects for this city, it should be a particularly attractive proposition for the right party. The store has been in continuous operation. Stock can be inspected at any time. Arrangements can be made with the owner for future renting of building.

F. A. FARRAR, Trustee,

MIGHT HAVE BEEN VERY BAD FIRE

PILE OF STRAW THE CAUSE

Straw Had Been Used to Cover Ice in Yard Back of West's Restaurant

What might have proven a very disastrous conflagration, was nipped in the bud Monday night. The fire department was called to the rear of George West's restaurant to extinguish a fire in a pile of straw which had been used to cover a pile of ice. The ice was piled near the fence and straw stuffed between the board fence and the ice, and the pile was covered with straw. It is probable that someone walking down the alley lit a cigar and flipped the match over the fence, not knowing that the straw was there. At any rate the straw was blazing merrily and the fence had caught fire when the department was called and reached the scene. Little damage was done.

Cows on Cut-over Land

I have never seen in the experience page of the Farmer any remarks urging the settlers in a new country like this here in Cass county, to keep a few cows to help out while clearing land. Let me tell you what our cows did last year, as we kept a book account of what they brought us. We milked from one to seven cows, and during the year they were all dry once, but not all at the same time. We had no separator, but made from Jan. 1 1909, to Jan. 1, 1910, $220 and have seven calves. Now I do not claim this is anything extra, for I know they could have done better if we had been prepared to keep cows and feed them like they do in older settled communities; but while clearing up a piece of timber land to make a home for a family of eight, that small sum is not to be sneered at. I consider the calves are worth what the feed cost, for the cows made their own living from May till November, and one can cut enough wild hay during the summer to feed them in the winter, and an acre or two of breaking down to turnips or rutabagas will supply succulent feed that will take the place of grain. For shorts, just sell a few pounds of butter and buy a sack. The milk and butter from these cows are about half our living.—C. M. Hanks in Duluth-News Tribune.

The Minnesota Dairyman well says: "Let the motto of 1910 be not how many cows, but how good cows and how much we can get from them."

Prof. McGuire says that the heifers from the first cross of a pure-bred dairy sire upon common cows will result in the heifers giving in their two-year-old form fifty pounds of butter more than the common cows from which they came. This being true, and we have no reason to doubt it, a man owning ten head of common cows can afford to purchase a good bull to head his herd.

If You Are a Trifle Sensitive About the size of your shoes, it's some satisfaction to know that many people can wear shoes a size smaller by taking Allen's Foot-Ease, the antiseptic powder, into them. Just the thing for dancing parties, patent leather shoes, and for breaking in new shoes. When rubbers or overshoes become necessary and your shoes pinch, Allen's Foot-Ease gives instant relief. ### NATIONAL TUBERCULOSIS DAY

Sunday April 24th, is to be Thus Observed in the Churches of America

Announcement of a national tuberculosis Sunday to be held on April 24th in 215,000 churches of the United States was made today by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis.

Following campaigns against consumption that have been carried on in the churches of hundreds of cities, and sermons on tuberculosis that have been preached before thousands of congregations during the past year a movement has been started to establish a permanent tuberculosis Sunday, on which it is hoped that every one of the 33,000,000 church-goers in the United States will hear the gospel of health. It is planned to enlist the active co-operation of anti-tuberculosis organizations, labor unions, fraternal organizations, and other bodies together with the churches in the movement. The aid of leading churchmen in many of the principal denominations has already been offered. All of the large interdenominational bodies, such as the Young Men's Christian Association, the King's Daughters and Sons, and the various young people's societies are also in sympathy with the anti-tuberculosis campaign.

It is planned that on April 24th tuberculosis sermons shall be preached in all the churches of the country. Literature will be distributed to members of the congregations, and in every way an effort will be made to teach that tuberculosis is a dangerous disease and that it can be prevented and cured.

Clergymen who desire to obtain additional information in regard to tuberculosis will be able to secure literature from state and local anti-tuberculosis associations and boards of health, as well as from the National Association.

CELEBRATED HIS BIRTHDAY

Employees of the Slipp-Gruenhagen Co. Honor the Company's President

Yesterday was the 49th birthday of F. H. Gruenhagen, president of the Slipp-Gruenhagen Co., and his associates in the firm and employees sprung a pleasant surprise on him. They gathered at his home immediately after the store closed for the evening and partook of a bountiful oyster supper which Mrs. Gruenhagen who was in the secret, had prepared. The evening was very pleasantly spent and the guests presented Mr. Gruenhagen with a handsome carving chair and a smoking jacket.

$100 Reward, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Saved a Soldier's Life

Facing death from shot and shell in the civil war was more agreeable to J. A. Stone, of Kemp, Texas, than facing it from what doctors said was consumption. "I contracted a stubborn cold," he writes, "that developed a cough, that stuck to me in spite of all remedies for years. My weight ran down to 130 pounds. Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery which completely cured me. I now weigh 178 pounds." ### Sale of Dry Goods Stock and Fixtures

The undersigned will receive sealed bids for the stock of dry goods, furniture and fixtures of Richard Parker, located at 704 Front Street, Brainerd, Minnesota, up to 5 p. m., on March 8th, 1910. Reserving the right to reject any and all bids.

Mr. Parker suffered a loss by fire in the year 1907, and re-opened about November, 1908, with practically a new stock and new fixtures. The stock is in splendid shape and the fixtures are especially attractive. The store is modern and up-to-date in every respect.

The stock invoices about $9,500, and furniture and fixtures about $2,500.

This is a new stock, new fixtures, and in a new building well located, and with the most excellent prospects for this city, it should be a particularly attractive proposition for the right party. The store has been in continuous operation. Stock can be inspected at any time. Arrangements can be made with the owner for future renting of building.

TO TABULATE 300,000,000.

India's Civil Service to Undertake Gigantic Census Task.

An Indian census—necessarily the biggest undertaking of its kind on record—is to be taken in March, 1911. Three hundred million people of varying races and creeds will be enumerated and the results tabulated, a task which would cause the Washington bureau of statistics to hesitate.

But the Indian civil service has already proved itself equal to the task. It holds the world's record not only for the scale of census operations, but for the speed with which results are issued. At the last census India's 300,000,000 had been counted between 7 a. m. and midnight on census day, and the results were published fifteen days later.

Glassless Goggles.

Glassless goggles for spectacle drivers, to keep rain from blurring the glasses, constitute a recent English invention. They are devoid of lenses and consist simply of two short tubes with open ends set in a frame, fitting tightly against the face. The air entering at the open outer ends forces a compressed air cushion against the eyes, which neither cold nor wind seems to penetrate. The eyes are kept warm and the spectacles dry.

Who Are the Elect?

Two modern statements of the doctrine of "election," neither of which would quite satisfy John Calvin or Jonathan Edwards, are given in the Congressionalist.

One was Henry Ward Beecher's epigrammatic and convincing phrase, "The elect are whosoever will; the nonelect are whosoever won't."

Good as this is, there is another explanation that is a star of equal magnitude. It was made by a colored man, who said:

"I mean, it is this way. The Lord is always voting for a man, and he is always voting against him. When the man himself votes, it breaks the tie."

THE MAN OF THE HOUR

CHAPTER XV.

WILLIAMS entered with Roberts in tow. The latter wore a haggard, troubled look, and his natural nervousness had visibly deepened, so much so that he had not even noted Phelan's appearance in the corridor as he passed into Horriggan's private room.

"Good evening, alderman," said Horriggan civilly.

"Good evening, sir," answered Roberts palpably ill at ease.

"I understand there's a full meeting today. Even Ellis came back from the south to be here. You're the only man missing."

"I couldn't get here sooner. I—"

"I see. That's all, Williams. You needn't wait. Roberts and I want a little talk before he goes in. Now, then," went on the boss, with a complete change of manner as Williams left the room, "what's the matter with you?"

"I—I can't!"

"Can't what? Speak out, man! Don't stand there and mumble at me!"

"I can't vote for the Borough franchise bill."

"Can't, hey?" roared Horriggan.

"Why not?"

"Because—because—" faltered Roberts; then, with a rush of hysterical emotion that blotted out his fear, he cried:

"Have you heard what that man Bennett has done? He organized a voters' committee in my ward and sent them to ask me at my own house what I was going to do about that bill. They had been stirred up by Bennett till they looked on me as a crook and on the bill as a personal robbery. They told me if I voted for it they'd know I was a dirty thief and grafter and that they'd kick me out of the ward."

"Well, well!" rumbled Horriggan soothingly, as though trying to calm a fractious drunkard. "What do you care? When they've forgotten all about the bill you'll still have the dough, won't you? Folks won't ask 'How'd he get it?' All they'll care to know is 'Has he got it?'"

"That isn't all!" Roberts blundered on, scarcely heeding the interruption.

"Bennett's next step was to organize a committee of voters' wives, and they came to see my wife this morning when I was out and told her they'd heard I was going to sell myself and vote for a dishonest bill. My wife—my wife thinks I'm the squares' noblest man on earth. Oh, you needn't sneer! Her trust means everything to me. She told the women I wouldn't stoop to any deed that wasn't honest, and they answered: 'Our husbands believe Mr. Roberts is a crook. If he is really honest he'll vote against that bill, as he did before.' Then on my way home this noon I met my little boy. He was crying. I asked him what the matter was. He said that some boys had told him I was a grafter. I told you, his voice rising almost to a scream, 'Bennett's made my life a hell. I'm no crook. I'm honest and—'"

"Sure you're honest!" Horriggan exclaimed, as though to a cross child. "Honest as the day! That's why you're voting for our bill. Because the crooked clauses have been cut out of it, and in its present form it's a benefit to the city."

"That isn't why I promised to vote for it," contradicted Roberts, with a despairing dash of courage. "It was because I—because—"

"Never mind why, then, but just go ahead and do it."

"I won't! I dare not!"

"You'll do it, I say!" stormed Horriggan. "You can't wince on me at this stage of the game. Those Sturtevant Trust company notes of yours were sent to you and—"

"And I won't take them!" declared Roberts, slamming two slips of paper down upon the table. "There! Take them back!"

"What do I want of them?" argued Horriggan craftily. "They belong to you."

"They don't. I won't keep them."

"You'll have to. I keep you to your promise."

"What promise?" asked a voice behind them.

Bennett, hastily summoned by Phelan, had entered the room unobserved by either of the excited men.

"What promise?" he asked again. "A promise to—"

"What are you doing here?" bellowed Horriggan in fury. "You called me down once for coming into your private office without knocking. What do you mean by coming into mine?"

"Yours?" queried Alwyn. "I had an idea it was the city's. The time is past when the words 'Horriggan' and 'city' meant the same thing. Well, Roberts, how are you going to vote? I want to believe you honest, and—Why, what's all this?" his eyes falling on the forgotten notes on the table.

"Nothing of yours!" shouted Horriggan, making a futile, furious grab for the documents which Alwyn was picking up. "Drop them! Drop them, I say, or you'll—"

"Why should I?" asked Bennett calmly, his quick eye taking in the nature of the slips of paper even as his alert brain grasped in full the meaning of the transaction in which they figured. "Do they belong to you?"

"They don't belong to you anyway," retorted Horriggan, "and if you dare read them—"

"I've already read them. Roberts," he added in a kinder voice, turning to the shaking alderman, "these were to have been your bribe, weren't they, for voting for the Borough bill?"

His quietly compelling tone and glance forced from Roberts a frightened "Yes" before Horriggan could interfere.

"I thought so. Be quiet, Horriggan," he commanded as the infuriated boss sought to speak through his choking wrath. "This is between Roberts and me. Now, then—"

"I returned the notes to him!" pleaded Roberts in panic. "Honestly, I did! Just before you came in. I could have kept them, and he couldn't have prevented me even if I voted against the bill. But I'm square and—"

"You are square?" affirmed Bennett, gripping the alderman's cold, moist hand in friendly reassurance. "I knew all along you were honest at heart. Horriggan wanted to bribe you, and you wouldn't be bribed. Now, I want you to go into the council room and vote as your manhood tells you to."

MARVEL IN VOICE TRAINING

How Hypnotism Turned a Falsetto Into Baritone.

TEST MADE ON YOUNG BOY.

Lad Almost Voiceless For a Year In Boston City Hospital Was Taught Deep Breathing—Relaxation of Nervous Spasm Sought by Showing Diaphragm's Proper Work.

Changing a boy's voice from falsetto to a deep baritone by suggestive hypnotism is the feat recently accomplished in the City hospital at Boston. The success of the operation has led Alice Neilsen, the opera singer, to put herself upon record as having long favored the use of magnetism in voice training. A boy of fourteen presented himself for treatment at the City hospital more than a year ago. He had contracted a severe cold and by lack of attention had lost his voice. The case finally came to the neurological department, of which Dr. Philip Coombs Knapp is the head, and it was turned over to Dr. Abraham Myerson, one of his assistants, who, although a young man, has already won a big reputation as a specialist in psychotherapeutic treatment of the throat.

Spoke In a Harsh Whisper.

"The boy," says Dr. Myerson, "had been examined by the throat department and sent to the nerve department with the explanation that there was nothing in his throat or nose to account for his lack of voice. He was not able to speak above a harsh whisper, and this trouble was diagnosed as hysterical in origin. At the end of two months of varied electrical treatment he ceased to call at the hospital and did not again appear for several months. He had neglected all treatment, and his voice had ceased to be a pure whisper, but had in it a tinge of a thin, high pitched squeak like the whistle of an old fashioned peanut roaster.

"The treatment used was simply directed toward a relaxation of the spasm. The patient was divested of clothing and placed in a reclining position on a table, where he was shown how to use his diaphragm in breathing. After fifteen minutes' instruction he managed to do this fairly well, and next he was given instruction for the control of his expiratory breath.

Cured After Three Treatments.

"At the first treatment these were merely long, gently whispered vowel sounds. At the second treatment and after a day's practice in these exercises, with no other speech efforts, his exercises were advanced by the voiced pronunciation of the vowels, and the instructor helped to offset the tendency to spasm by holding down the larynx with his finger. He made progress so rapidly that after the third treatment he was discharged as cured. Today his voice is a good and constant baritone, which at first startled him on account of its depth."

Under the British constitution the king could make war without reference to parliament.

STUDIO FOR CONVICTS.

Expected to Transform Their Prison's Sombre Interior to an Art Gallery.

Works in oil will soon adorn the grimy gray walls of the Western Pennsylvania penitentiary, at Riverside, a new occupation having been found for a small colony of artists who help to make up the big prison's population. This is the latest innovation of Warden John Francis, conceded to be one of the most versatile prison officials in the United States.

On the second floor of the prison rotunda a room thirty feet square has been fitted up as a studio. All the paraphernalia necessary for an artist has been provided, and ten convicts who have revealed ability to depict nature on canvas during their idle moments when locked up in their cells will show their talent. Warden Francis expects within a month or six weeks to have the sombre interior of the prison transformed into a veritable art gallery.

"Of course," he said, "I do not anticipate that any of their paintings will eventually adorn the galleries of our leading art institutions, but from what I have seen of some of the convicts' work it will compare favorably with that of many of the so called artists peddling their pictures on some of the art connoisseurs of our own locality. Before these men are through I hope to have the prison decorated from top to bottom with paintings in order to relieve the poor devils kept here for an indefinite period from gazing continually at bare walls and steel bars."

Odd Mode of Naval Warfare.

Leroy Tobey of Penn Yan, N. Y., has a new scheme of naval warfare. He has written a long letter to the navy department at Washington in which he offers it to the government. He proposes that battleships be equipped with a large supply of fenceposts and barbed wire. When the enemy's vessels come within range pay out the wire and posts in such a way as to encircle the enemy's vessels. The wire will get tangled in the enemy's propeller, and then it will be easy enough for the American naval commanders to lay siege to the disabled ship or fleet until hunger and thirst force it to capitulate. Mr. Tobey was informed that the department could not adopt this new method of warfare.

Protracted.

"Hello, Barker!" said Smitkin, meeting his friend on the street. "How goes it?"

"All right, I guess," said Barker.

"Seen Bobbie Sponger lately?"

"Yes; Bobbie is down at my place at Westhampton now. I invited him down for the week end."

"Why, I thought that was three weeks ago!"

"It was," said Barker, "but you know, Bobbie is an expert at making both ends meet."—Harper's Weekly.

Yes, Remington Painted.

A western man who knew Frederic Remington only by his magazine illustrations in black and white once called on the artist at his New Rochelle home. The stranger was ushered into the studio, where Mr. Remington was at work in colors on a large canvas.

"Oh!" exclaimed the surprised visitor. "Do you paint, Mr. Remington?"

"Ah—well—ah," responded the almost equally surprised artist, his ready sense of humor revealing in the situation. "I—ah—I—think I do."—New York Press.

YOUR LAME BACK WILL FEEL FINE

Out-of-Order Kidneys are Cleaned and Regulated and Bladder Misery Vanishes

COMPLETE CURE IS WAITING

Just a Few Doses Now Will Make Your Entire Kidney and Urinary System Act Fine

The most effective and harmless way to cure backache and regulate out-of-order kidneys, or end bladder trouble, is to take several doses of Pape's Diuretic.

You will distinctly feel that your kidneys and urinary organs are being cleaned, healed and vitalized, and all the miserable symptoms, such as backache, headache, nervousness, rheumatism and darting pains, inflamed or swollen eyelids, irritability, sleeplessness, or suppressed, painful or frequent urination (especially at night) and other distress, leaving after taking the first few doses.

The moment you suspect any kidney or urinary disorder or feel rheumatism coming, begin taking this harmless medicine, with the knowledge that there is no other remedy, at any price, made anywhere else in the world, which will effect so thorough and prompt a cure as a 50-cent treatment of Pape's Diuretic, which any druggist can supply.

Your physician, pharmacist, banker or any mercantile agency will tell you that Pape, Thompson & Pape, of Cincinnati, is a large and responsible medicine concern, thoroughly worthy of your confidence.

Don't be miserable or worried another moment with a lame back or clogged, inactive kidneys or bladder misery. All this goes after you start taking Pape's Diuretic, and in a few days you feel and know that your kidneys, liver and urinary system are healthy, clean and normal, and all danger passed.

Third—George Ross, a former Yale athlete, six inches.

Drs. O'Brien, Reed and Kennedy—it took all three of them to remove the appendix from Ross at the Buhl hospital—believe that the seven inch record will remain for some time.

WHEN THE CENSUS WILL BE TAKEN

Duties Enumerators Are to Perform on April 15.

QUESTIONS TO BE ASKED.

How Birth of Foreign Born Residents Must Be Recorded—Full Records to Be Made of Marriages and Divorces. Classifying Those Who Speak Languages Other Than English.

What the census enumerators are required to learn regarding the place of birth of native born and foreign born persons and other personal facts concerning the last class in taking the thirteenth United States census, beginning April 15, is set forth in the printed instructions prepared by the United States census bureau.

On the subject of place of birth of a native born person the instructions say that if the person was born in the United States the enumerator is to give the state or territory, not the city or town. A person born in what is now West Virginia, North Dakota, South Dakota or Oklahoma should be reported as so born, although at the time of birth the particular region may have had a different name.

Enumerators are to report whether the person is single, married, widowed or divorced. Married persons are to be asked if they have been married before. If the present marriage is the first the fact is to be indicated by the sign "M 1;" but if it is the second or subsequent marriage then the enumerator is to write "M 2," meaning married more than once.

The question calling for the number of years of the present marriage is declared by the census bureau to apply only to persons reported as married, and the answer should give the number of years married to the present husband or wife. Thus a woman who may have been married for ten years to a former husband, but has been married only three years to her present husband, should be returned as married three years. The number of years entered should be the number of completed years. A person who on April 15, the census day, has been married three years and eleven months should be returned as married three years. For a person married less than one year the entry is to be "0," meaning less than one year.

Queries For Poles.

In the case of persons speaking Polish or reporting that they were born in Poland, which is no longer an independent country, the enumerator is to inquire whether the birthplace was in what is now known as German Poland or Austrian Poland or Russian Poland, and he must write the answer accordingly as Poland (Ger.), Poland (Aust.) or Poland (Russ.).

If the birthplace reported is Canada the enumerator is required to ask whether the person is of English or French descent and write Canada (Eng.) or Canada (Fr.), according to the answer.

Questions calling for the year of immigration to the United States apply to all foreign born persons, male and female, of whatever age. The question should be answered, therefore, for every person whose birthplace was in a foreign country. The enumerator must enter the year in which the person came to the United States. If he has been in the United States more than once the year of his first arrival is to be stated.

Mother Tongue Must Be Recorded.

The inquiry whether naturalized or alien applies only to foreign born males twenty-one years of age and over. It does not apply to females, to foreign born minors or to any male born in the United States. If the person was born abroad, but has become a full citizen, either by taking out second or final papers of naturalization or through the naturalization of his parents while he was under the age of twenty-one years, the enumerator is to write "Na" (for naturalized). If he has declared his intention to become an American citizen and taken out his "first papers," the enumerator is to write "Al" (for alien).

The inquiry as to the ability to speak English applies to all persons ten years of age or over. If English is spoken the enumerator must write "English" in the proper column. If the person enumerated is not able to speak English the enumerator is required, in such cases only, to write out the name of the language spoken. If more than one language is spoken by a person, who, however, does not speak English, the enumerator is to write the name of that language which is his native language or mother tongue.

Verminiform Appendix Race.

The competition which recently developed for world's records in the length of vermiform appendices has disclosed a new winner. The showing up to Feb. 20 was as follows:

First—Edwin Ross of Sharon, Pa., seven inches.

Second—Howard Gould of Winthrop, Mass., six and three-quarter inches.

TO TABULATE 300,000,000.

India's Civil Service to Undertake Gigantic Census Task.

An Indian census—necessarily the biggest undertaking of its kind on record—is to be taken in March, 1911. Three hundred million people of varying races and creeds will be enumerated and the results tabulated, a task which would cause the Washington bureau of statistics to hesitate.

But the Indian civil service has already proved itself equal to the task. It holds the world's record not only for the scale of census operations, but for the speed with which results are issued. At the last census India's 300,000,000 had been counted between 7 a. m. and midnight on census day, and the results were published fifteen days later.

THE MAN OF THE HOUR

CHAPTER XV.

WILLIAMS entered with Roberts in tow. The latter wore a haggard, troubled look, and his natural nervousness had visibly deepened, so much so that he had not even noted Phelan's appearance in the corridor as he passed into Horrikan's private room.

"Good evening, alderman," said Horrikan civilly.

"Good evening, sir," answered Roberts palpably ill at ease.

"I understand there's a full meeting today. Even Ellis came back from the south to be here. You're the only man missing."

"I couldn't get here sooner. I—"

"I see. That's all, Williams. You needn't wait. Roberts and I want a little talk before he goes in. Now, then," went on the boss, with a complete change of manner as Williams left the room, "what's the matter with you?"

"I—I can't—"

"Can't what? Speak out, man! Don't stand there and mumble at me!"

"I can't vote for the Borough franchise bill."

"Can't, hey?" roared Horrikan. "Why not?"

"Because—because—" faltered Roberts; then, with a rush of hysterical emotion that blotted out his fear, he cried:

"Have you heard what that man Bennett has done? He organized a voters' committee in my ward and sent them to ask me at my own house what I was going to do about that bill. They had been stirred up by Bennett till they looked on me as a crook and on the bill as a personal robbery."

"Well, well!" rumbled Horrikan soothingly, as though trying to calm a fractious drunkard. "What do you care? When they've forgotten all about the bill you'll still have the dough, won't you? Folks won't ask 'How'd he get it?' All they'll care to know is 'Has he got it?'"

"That isn't all!" Roberts blundered on, scarcely heeding the interruption.

"Bennett's next step was to organize a committee of voters' wives, and they came to see my wife this morning when I was out and told her they'd heard I was going to sell myself and vote for a dishonest bill. My wife—my wife thinks I'm the squardest, noblest man on earth. Oh, you needn't sneer! Her trust means everything to me. She told the women I wouldn't stoop to any deed that wasn't honest, and they answered: 'Our husbands believe Mr. Roberts is a crook. If he is really honest he'll vote against that bill, as he did before.' Then on my way home this noon I met my little boy. He was crying. I asked him what the matter was. He said that some boys had told him I was a graft-er. I tell you, his voice rising almost to a scream, 'Bennett's made my life a hell. I'm no crook. I'm honest and—'"

"Sure you're honest!" Horrikan exclaimed, as though to a cross child. "Honest as the day! That's why you're voting for our bill. Because the crooked clauses have been cut out of it, and in its present form it's a benefit to the city."

"That isn't why I promised to vote for it," contradicted Roberts, with a despairing dash of courage. "It was because I—because—"

"Never mind why, then, but just go ahead and do it."

"I won't. I dare not—"

"You'll do it, I say!" stormed Horrikan. "You can't welch on me at this stage of the game. Those Sturtevant Trust company notes of yours were sent to you and—"

"And I won't take them!" declared Roberts, slamming two slips of paper down upon the table. "There! Take them back!"

"What do I want of them?" argued Horrikan craftily. "They belong to you."

"They don't. I won't keep them."

"You'll have to. I keep you to your promise."

"What promise?" asked a voice behind them.

Bennett, hastily summoned by Phelan, had entered the room unobserved by either of the excited men.

"What promise?" he asked again. "A promise to—"

"What are you doing here?" bellowed Horrikan in fury. "You called me down once for coming into your private office without knocking. What do you mean by coming into mine?"

"Yours?" queried Alwyn. "I had an idea it was the city's. The time is past when the words 'Horrikan' and 'city' meant the same thing. Well, Roberts, how are you going to vote? I want to believe you honest, and—"

"Why, what's all this?" his eyes falling on the forgotten notes on the table.

"Nothing of yours," shouted Horrikan, making a futile, furious grab for the documents which Alwyn was picking up. "Drop them! Drop them. I say, or you'll—"

"Why should I?" asked Bennett calmly, his quick eye taking in the nature of the slips of paper even as his alert brain grasped in full the meaning of the transaction in which they figured.

"Do they belong to you?"

"They don't belong to you anyway," retorted Horrikan, "and if you dare read them—"

"I've already read them, Roberts," he added in a kinder voice, turning to the shaking alderman, "these were to have been your bribe, weren't they, for voting for the Borough bill?"

His quietly compelling tone and glance forced from Roberts a frightened "Yes" before Horrikan could interfere.

"I thought so. Be quiet, Horrikan," he commanded as the infuriated boss sought to speak through his choking wrath. "This is between Roberts and me. Now, then—"

"I returned the notes to him!" pleaded Roberts in panic. "Honestly, I did! Just before you came in. I could have kept them, and he couldn't have prevented me even if I voted against the bill. But I'm square and—"

"You are square!" affirmed Bennett, gripping the alderman's cold, moist hand in friendly reassurance. "I knew all along you were honest at heart. Horrikan wanted to bribe you, and you wouldn't be bribed. Now, I want you to go into the council room and vote as your neighbor tells you to."

MARVEL IN VOICE TRAINING

How Hypnotism Turned a Falsetto Into Baritone.

TEST MADE ON YOUNG BOY.

Changing a boy's voice from falsetto to a deep baritone by suggestive hypnotism is the feat recently accomplished in the City hospital at Boston. The success of the operation has led Alice Nielsen, the opera singer, to put herself upon record as having long favored the use of magnetism in voice training. A boy of fourteen presented himself for treatment at the City hospital more than a year ago. He had contracted a severe cold and by lack of attention had lost his voice. The case finally came to the neurological department, of which Dr. Philip Combs Knapp is the head, and it was turned over to Dr. Abraham Myerson, one of his assistants, who, although a young man, has already won a big reputation as a specialist in psychotherapeutic treatment of the throat.

Spoke In a Harsh Whisper.
 "The boy," says Dr. Myerson, "had been examined by the throat department and sent to the nerve department with the explanation that there was nothing in his throat or nose to account for his lack of voice. He was not able to speak above a harsh whisper, and this trouble was diagnosed as hysterical in origin. At the end of two months of varied electrical treatment he ceased to call at the hospital and did not again appear for several months. He had neglected all treatment, and his voice had ceased to be a pure whisper, but had in it a tinge of a thin, high pitched squeak like the whistle of an old fashioned peanut roaster.

"The treatment used was simply directed toward a relaxation of the spasm. The patient was divested of clothing and placed in a reclining position on a table, where he was shown how to use his diaphragm in breathing. After fifteen minutes' instruction he managed to do this fairly well, and next he was given instruction for the control of his expiratory breath.

Cured After Three Treatments.
 "At the first treatment these were merely long, gently whispered vowel sounds. At the second treatment and after a day's practice in these exercises, with no other speech efforts, his exercises were advanced by the voiced pronunciation of the vowels, and the instructor helped to offset the tendency to spasm by holding down the larynx with his finger. He made progress so rapidly that after the third treatment he was discharged as cured. Today his voice is a good and constant baritone, which at first startled him on account of its depth."

The King of England.
 Under the British constitution the king could make war without reference to parliament.

STUDIO FOR CONVICTS.

Expected to Transform Their Prison's Sombre Interior to an Art Gallery.

Works in oil will soon adorn the grimy gray walls of the Western Pennsylvania penitentiary, at Riverside, a new occupation having been found for a small colony of artists who help to make up the big prison's population. This is the latest innovation of Warden John Francis, conceded to be one of the most versatile prison officials in the United States.

On the second floor of the prison rotunda a room thirty feet square has been fitted up as a studio. All the paraphernalia necessary for an artist has been provided, and ten convicts who have revealed ability to depict nature on canvas during their idle moments when locked up in their cells will show their talent. Warden Francis expects within a month or six weeks to have the sombre interior of the prison transformed into a veritable art gallery.

"Of course," he said, "I do not anticipate that any of their paintings will eventually adorn the galleries of our leading art institutions, but from what I have seen of some of the convicts' work it will compare favorably with that of many of the so called artists peddling their pictures on some of the art connoisseurs of our own locality. Before these men are through I hope to have the prison decorated from top to bottom with paintings in order to relieve the poor devils kept here for an indefinite period from gazing continually at bare walls and steel bars."

A person born in what is now West Virginia, North Dakota, South Dakota or Oklahoma should be reported as so born, although at the time of birth the particular region may have had a different name.

Enumerators are to report whether the person is single, married, widowed or divorced. Married persons are to be asked if they have been married before. If the present marriage is the first the fact is to be indicated by the sign "M 1," but if it is the second or subsequent marriage then the enumerator is to write "M 2," meaning married more than once.

The question calling for the number of years of the present marriage is declared by the census bureau to apply only to persons reported as married, and the answer should give the number of years married to the present husband or wife. Thus a woman who may have been married for ten years to a former husband, but has been married only three years to her present husband, should be returned as married three years. The number of years entered should be the number of completed years. A person who on April 15, the census day, has been married three years and eleven months should be returned as married three years. For a person married less than one year the entry is to be "0," meaning less than one year.

Queries For Poles.

In the case of persons speaking Polish or reporting that they were born in Poland, which is no longer an independent country, the enumerator is to inquire whether the birthplace was in what is now known as German Poland or Austrian Poland or Russian Poland, and he must write the answer accordingly as Poland (Ger.), Poland (Aust.) or Poland (Russ.).

If the birthplace reported is Canada the enumerator is required to ask whether the person is of English or French descent and write Canada (Eng.) or Canada (Fr.), according to the answer.

Questions calling for the year of immigration to the United States apply to all foreign born persons, male and female, of whatever age. The question should be answered, therefore, for every person whose birthplace was in a foreign country. The enumerator must enter the year in which the person came to the United States. If he has been in the United States more than once the year of his first arrival is to be stated.

Mother Tongue Must Be Recorded.

The inquiry whether naturalized or alien applies only to foreign born males twenty-one years of age and over. It does not apply to females, to foreign born minors or to any male born in the United States. If the person was born abroad, but has become a full citizen, either by taking out second or final papers of naturalization or through the naturalization of his parents while he was under the age of twenty-one years, the enumerator is to write "Na" (for naturalized). If he has declared his intention to become an American citizen and taken out his "first papers," the enumerator is to write "Al" (for alien).

The inquiry as to the ability to speak English applies to all persons ten years of age or over. If English is spoken the enumerator must write "English" in the proper column. If the person enumerated is not able to speak English the enumerator is required, in such cases only, to write out the name of the language spoken. If more than one language is spoken by a person, who, however, does not speak English, the enumerator is to write the name of that language which is his native language or mother tongue.

Vermiform Appendix Race.

The competition which recently developed for world's records in the length of vermiform appendices has disclosed a new winner. The showing up to Feb. 20 was as follows:

First.—Edwin Ross of Sharon, Pa., seven inches.

Second.—Howard Gould of Winthrop, Mass., six and three-quarter inches.

Third.—George Ross, a former Yale athlete, six inches.

Drs. O'Brien, Reed and Kennedy—it took all three of them to remove the appendix from Ross at the Bull hospital—believe that the seven inch record will remain for some time.

Ants and Colors.

It was proved long ago that ants have the power of seeing the—so to speak—ultra violet portion of the spectrum. They fear the light for their larvae and when allowed choice between different degrees of light always carry them to the darkest place accessible. When given the choice between a compartment lighted with yellow light and one dark to our eyes, but under the actinic rays, the ants unhesitatingly chose the yellow light, showing that to their eyes it was darker than the other, to man invisible.—Argonaut.

His Nerves Wrecked

Almost helpless but DR. A. W. CHASE'S NERVE PILLS restored vigor, strength, ambition

Mr. O. Fuller, No. 20 Willow Street, Gloversville, N. Y., writes: "I take pleasure in telling you how much good Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills have done for me. I was a complete nervous wreck when I began using them. I had a constant headache, was tired all the time, all my ambition was gone, could scarcely drag through my day's work. 'I read about Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills, bought a box, and soon found they were helping me. I have taken altogether eight boxes of these pills and feel like a different man. I can sleep well, have no headache, feel strong and healthy.

You can feel yourself getting strength and vigor when Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are used. The blood is made rich and pure, the appetite is sharpened, digestion improves and every organ in the body feels the benefits of the rich, red, life sustaining blood.

Fifty cts. a box, all dealers, or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y. Portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., on every box.
